Inaugural Work For Improvement of Stockdale-Coal Center Road Is Now Promised Following Delays—J. T. Heffran Aids

WHY WORK IS DELAYED

Mr. Yard, Assistant to District Engineer Meyers, Labor Delayed, Account of the Large Amount of Work With Which He Has Been Involved

Delays experienced in the survey of important Stockdale-Coal Centre highway, a stretch of road practically five miles in length for whose improvement there is insistent demand, has caused the Hon. James T. Heffran to use his influence as a legislator and as a better community proponent to indite letters to the State Highway department, of which Paul D. Wright is commissioner, in its behalf. Mr Heffran was assured by the department in February that the survey would be made at once. Delays, which he couldn't understand, caused him to communicate with the department asking the reason for the holdups, and received the following letters, one of June 3 date, and the other of June 17. They are self-explanatory:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Department of Highways,
Harrisburg, June 5, 1924.

Honorable James T. Heffran, 25 Speers St., Speers, Pa.

Dear Mr. Heffran: Responding to your letter of June 3 addressed to Secretary Wright, relative to surveys on Route No. 268, from Stockdale to Coal Centre, this survey was authorized some time ago and my understanding was that it would be commenced prior to this time.

I am writing District Engineer Meyers today and on receipt of a report from him. I shall be glad to again write you regarding this matter. Yours very truly, W. H. Connell, Engineering Executive and Deputy Secretary of Highways.

KILLING DOG IS EXPENSIVE

Edward Mallard, a member of the Harry C. Hunter carnival, and one of the men arrested on a gambling charge when the show appeared, encountered misfortune when he went back to Monongahela yesterday from Library, where the Hunter carnival is appearing this week.

Mallard was driving an automobile and it is claimed that he deliberately killed an Airedale dog owned by Lewis Warne, of Sampson street, Monongahela. Mallard did not stop, but the license number of his machine was taken and his arrest resulted. He was arraigned before Mayor H T. Billick. Upon payment of $50 to Sampson and the costs of the case, the latter totaling $10, he was discharged.

O'Donnell, former treasurer of the Union Trust Company, Donora, and a gentleman, who was held in the confidence and esteem of those who knew him; a man who has resided in Donora practically all of the 35 years of his life, and who resigned from the position named about two months ago, was arrested in Cleveland yesterday. LLOYD HERE IN A BRAN NEW ROLE

In his latest feature Pathe comedy, "Girl Shy," which will be seen at the Coyle theatre Monday, Harold Lloyd once more demonstrates his remarkable versatility before the camera. Lloyd's role in this new fun-film is said to be so entirely different from any he has ever attempted to portray, that he debated a long time before tackling it. The picture will be shown four days.

The locale of "Girl Shy" is for the most part a small town, although towards the end of the picture the action is staged in the city.

Lloyd will introduce a real novelty to the screen in this picture and he has carefully guarded his secret because it is his own idea and to have it known before the showing of the fun-film might rob it of some of its appeal.

CAMP UNDERWOOD WILL BE USED BY THE BOY SCOUTS

At a meeting of the camping committee of the Monongahela Valley Council of Boy Scouts, held in Donora, Tuesday, with representatives present from Monongahela, Donora, Monessen and Charleroi, a summer camping site was selected. After several weeks of inspection of the various possible sites, Camp Underwood was decided upon, the same camp used last year Both Summerfield and Indian Creek were previously suggested as good sites, but upon investigation of the water and swimming facilities, these sites were entirely abandoned for the Boy Scout headquarters. Chester C. Humphreys, chemist, will supervise the installation of a filtration plant at Camp Underwood, thus assuring absolutely pure water.

A number of added improvements will be enjoyed by the boys this year. A swimming pool will be built as well as an atheletic field established. The roads leading from Clarksville will be repaired in order that the camp will be easily accessible.

LINES BEING DRAWN ON 3 BIG ISSUES

New York, June 21—While rival candidates, a group of Democratic chieftains is busily hammering into shape the platform on which the party nominee must stand.

On the main plank—"clean government"—there is no division among the leaders or the delegates, but lines [illegible] issues for the Democrats. They are:

1—The Ku Klux Klan.

2—The League of Nations.

3—Prohibition.

All concede that these questions must be met in the platform but the task of meeting them in such a manner as to satisfy all elements of the party is perplexing the "best minds" of Democracy.

By all odds the most vexatious and most likely to lead to discord is the Klan question. With George E Brennan, Democratic leader of Chi-

SMITH AND DAVIS.

The two candidates or supposed candidates for the Democratic nomination who are thought to have the least chance of getting it are the two who speak out with complete freedom, dodging no question whatsoever. John W. Davis will not bend an inch from the position he elects to hold to increase his chances of consideration in the convention or extend his popularity before the country. As for Governor Smith, at a time when candidates are expected to say just what they think will please the most people and bring the most votes, he, regardless of its possible effect on his political fortunes, repeats exactly what he said long ago, counteracing the following statement of his views on the risky subject of prohibition:

"1. Believing that the Eighteenth amendment is directed against hard liquor, that is, against really intoxicating liquor, he desires Congress to amend the Volstead act so as to eliminate the prohibition against beer and light wines. 2. He then believes that the Federal government should concentrate on preventing interstate and foreign commerce in hard liquor. 3. He would allow each State to determine for itself whether and how it will permit the sale of beer and light wines. No State could allow the sale of more intoxicating liquor than is permitted by the definition fixed by Congress; but any State could enact and enforce prohibition against beer and light wines if it chose."

Whether we agree with them or are willing to trust them at the helm of State, or not, the unflinching honesty of Governor Smith and John W Davis compel admiration.

SCOUT DUFFLE BAG

Good Start for New Year.

The Monongahela Valley Council is off to a flying start for the new year, as was shown by the spirit and pep displayed by the newly organized Executive committee at its first meeting June 9, under the leadership of the President, Alex McVicker of Monongahela. The chief feature of this meeting was the dispatch with which all business was carried off and the number of enthusiastic members who were present. Recommendations were made with regard to camp and the following chairmen of Standing committees were appointed:

Finance, C. S. McKean, Charleroi; Activities and Training, Rev. A. Johnson, Monongahela; Camping, J. B. Schafer, Charleroi; Troop Organization, Hailey Swift, Monongahela; Court of Honor, Dr. R. M. Palmer, Monessen; Publicity, Dr. D. A. Rupert, Donora. The next meeting will be held at the Monongahela City hall, July 7.

Flag Day, June 14.

The Boy Scouts' part in the observation of Flag Day, June 14, was well carried out, in their cooperation with the Elks' clubs. The Scouts turned out in goodly numbers, demonstrating their training as young Americans, by giving the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, and a snappy salute. Monongahela City, through the cooperation of its Scoutmasters and Scout Commissioner Johnson, undertook to sponsor the observance of Flag Day in their town. The program was very appropriately carried out, with a parade, after which the boys assembled at the post office for the Flag ceremonies. The Flag was dipped three times, while the bugle sounded. The Pledge of Allegiance was given, together with the Scout Law and Oath.

Scout Leaders' Round Table.

The Scout Leaders' Round Table meetings have been very actively attended this month, and plans have been discussed and made for the summer activities. More and more the Scout Leaders are recognizing the benefit of getting together and discussing Scouting problems.

Courts of Honor.

Plans are being made for public Courts of Honor to be held in Charleroi and Monongahela City. Charleroi will hold their Court Thursday, June 26, at the High School Auditorium, while Monongahela will call their Court to action June 20, at the High School. Charleroi will have about 75 boys ready to appear, and Monongahela City will have about one-fourth that number. The public is invited to this demonstration of Scouting, and the Court of Honor, which is composed of the leading citizens in the town, will, with appropriate ceremony, present the well-earned emblems to the Scouts appearing to be reviewed on their tests.

Monessen Council Fire.

Despite the fact that Friday, June 13, is supposed to be unlucky, the Scout Leaders of Monessen staged a very successful council fire for all the Scouts in their district, in which, after the proverbial "hot dogs" had been consumed, a program of stunts, singing and stories was put on by the Scouts, which produced a real feeling of fellowship. About 90 Scouts turned out for this program.

Donora also staged a council fire, under the leadership of Scout Commissioner Kohnfelder and his assistant Albert Watkins, in connection with the newly organized troop sponsored by the Jewish Synagogue. About 34 were present and the same sort of program was put on as in Monessen.

Camp Committee Report.

The Camp committee under the chairmanship of J. B. Schafer of Charleroi, has been busily engaged in making plans for the camp this summer. While they have not as yet selected a camp site, the date set for camp is from July 21 to August 16, constituting a four-week period which will be divided into two periods. All Scout Leaders are requested to indicate the number of boys going to camp from their troop, not later than June 21. Camp fee will be $5.00 per boy per week, and an experienced corps of officers will be capable of handling at least 150 boys for each period. Enough equipment has been secured to provide amply for the number of boys expected to attend.

PIRATES RECOVER THIER BATTING EYES AND BEAT THE REDS

Pittsburgh has been pretty soft picking for the Cincinnati Reds this spring an they came to Forbes Field yesterday with the avowed intention of sicking the Pirates to a farewell, but the old baseball worm turned as worms sometimes do, and Bill McKechnie's boys with Yanigan reinforcements, tore into the foe like mad men and forced 8,000 sweltering fans to welcome them home from a hollow Eastern trip, with wild screams of joy. The Reds were knocked off to the tune of 9 to 4.

The uccos never used their bludgeons with more deadly effect and they soon had the pestiferous Mr Slump shot so full of holes that he looked like a swiss cheese.

They jostled Eppa Jeptha Rixey off the knoll in the third inning after turning six of his left-handed heaves into safe smashes and followed by Mays until the enemy's outfielders were almost fagged out from chasing swats over the meadows. Although it was not necessary to play the last of the ninth, the Corsairs accumulated 15 blows in eight innings, just to show the populace that they are making a powerful bid for the return of their battling eyes.

Steve "Kid" Sullivan Beats Dundee--Now Is Junior Lightweight Star

Steve "Kid" Sullivan, an Italian American boy from the Gowanus section of Brooklyn, is the new junior lightweight champion of the world. He defeated Johnny Dundee, who was also older of the world's featherweight title last night in the 10-round feature contest at Henderson's Bowl Brooklyn. The champion put up a fairly good defense of his title but his battle tonight showed once again that he is far from the Johnny Dundee of old. Only in one round did Johnny show to advantage, this was in the ninth when he flashed a courageous rally. He managed to hold Sullivan even in three rounds but in the other six the Brooklyn boy clearly held the advantage.

On one occasion Sullivan had Dundee on the verge of a knockout. This was early in the eighth round when Sully nailed the champion with a right to the chin and sent him reeling. A desperate scrimmage followed, but Dundee appeared to regain his composure before the bell.

Connell, Engineering Executive and Deputy Secretary of Highways.

Supplementary to the communication conveying the information that the California end is completed, Mr. Yard, assistant to District Engineer Meyers, told Mr. Heffran that owing to the large amount of work with which he has been involved, he had been unable to commence operations of the survey on the stretch of highway named, but that he will begin the labors incident thereto with all possible speed and continue the work until the survey is completed. This will mean that once completed, it will take some time to prepare estimates for the doing of the work and asking for bids, so it appears that the improvement will probably not be made this year, not at least before fall at any rate. It is evident, however, from the second letter, that of June 17, that the work will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

The Clavilux

The clavilux is an organlike instrument that plays light on a screen for the eye, just as music is played into the air for the ear. The instrument blends the qualities of color and of light—now rising and falling in soft gradation, now marshaled in full, impressive splendor, now fading into abrupt darkness. Sonatas of light and symphonies of color are thus made possible.

Science and Shoeshines

A Paris bootblack now uses a palette when shining women's shoes. The Parisian women's shoes vary so much in color that he found it often difficult to get the right hue of cream to match. So on his palette he puts a number of different creams and combines them in varying proportions according to the tone of the shoes with which he has to deal.

Pulverized Coal

The experiment of using pulverized coal was made about 45 years ago, when it was tried as a fuel for heating the kilns in which the raw materials for making portland cement were burned. It was not successful at the time, but methods have since been devised that make pulverized coal a successful fuel.

BARTHELMESS IN FILM "21"

Richard Barthlemess, returning to the screen in a modern story after demonstrating his versatile talents in two period costume dramas, adds another triumph to his collection of cinematic successes with "Twenty-One" at the Majestic theatre Monday and Tuesday.

"Twenty-One" is a delightful story of the present day, being an adaptation of the novel, "Wild Apples" written by Grace McGowan Cook and Alice McGowan. Never was Barthelmess better cast than he is in this production as Julian McCullough, 19-year-old youth who rebels at his mother's social ambitions and her misguided efforts to make a molly-coddle of him and finds pleasure in the company of a little factory girl, Lynne Willis.

cago and E. H. Moore of Ohio, leading the fight for the specific denunciation of the Klan by name and a large group of Southern delegates opposing any declaration that might offend the Klan, the platform drafters are beset on all sides. Leaders interested only in party success, however, predict that the issue will be skillfully straddled.

Prehistoric Canals Found in Meade County, Kansas

Digging away with gouges and paddles, probably made of buffalo bones, prehistoric men, who lived in Meade and Clark counties, Kansas, skillfully constructed great artificial embankments which diverted the waters of Four Mile creek through an ancient canal.

That's the conclusion of a field party that spent several days in the late spring of 1920 examining one of the ancient channels. The builders of these ancient artificial waterways evidently possessed engineering skill of no mean order, as some of their cuts, fills and meanders on sloping ground abundantly prove.

When running along the face of a declivity at right angles to the slope they invariably piled the excavated dirt on the lower side. The earth doubtless was transported by means of wicker baskets or in sacks made of rawhide. The ruins antedate the coming of the Spaniards by hundreds of years, possibly a thousand or more.

Those canal builders probably lived in low, one-story pueblos. Moundlike ruins still are visible in Beaver county, Oklahoma, just across the state line, and in the vicinity of the canals in Kansas.—Detroit News.

Aerial Forest Patrol

Many persons will remember when the pilot and passenger on an airplane were obliged to sit on the edge of a wing with their feet hanging in space. The newest form of cabin is very luxurious, both in the machines used for passenger travel and those flown for scientific work. The entire forward end of the cabin is enclosed in glass, with broad windows reaching to the floor, so that the pilot and others can look out in all directions while seated in comfortable chairs. This form of airplane is used by the government in forest patrol work and for aerial photography. The camera or instruments used are mounted in this bay window, so that they can command an uninterrupted sweep of the horizon. From any seat in the cabin of such an airplane a marvelous view of the landscape may be enjoyed.

In Society's Realm

Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the borough building, there will be a special meeting of the Charleroi Monessen hospital auxiliary called for the purpose of closing up the business in connection with the recent concert. All those who sold tickets during that time are requested to be present and make a complete report.

Mrs. J. W. Cooper entertained the Friendship Euchre club at her McKean avenue home Thursday evening and a delightful evening was spent in playing cards. Three tables were in play, the favors being awarded to Mrs. R. O. Ligon, Mrs. J. W. Cooper, and Mrs. John Moussioux. After the serving of a dainty luncheon the guests departed to meet again at the home of Mrs Albert Brown of 101 Prospect avenue, next Thursday.

A wedding of interest took place in Pittsburgh yesterday morning when Miss Mamie Waddell of North Charleroi become the bride of Michael McKita of this place. The bride was attired in a grey gown of flat crepe with hat to match and she carried a bouquet of roses. They were unattended. Both the bride and groom are wellknown among the younger set of this community. Mr. McKita is an employe of the Cudahy Packing company. They will make their home in Charleroi.

The Queen Esther Circle of the Methodist Episcopal church met last evening in its last meeting of the year, which was largely attended. The lesson study was led by Mrs. L. J. Mitchell and Miss Elizabeth Frew, while special music was rendered by Misses Price Frye and Ruth Stephens. During the business meeting, reports of the year's work were given by the various officers, which evidenced that the Circle has been very active during the past year. The following officers were elected to conduct the Circle activities for the ensuing year: President, Muriel Baker; vice president Elizabeth Frew; corresponding secretary, Alice Livingston; recording secretary, Ruth Gass; mite box secretary, Irma Bowser; literature secretary, Hazel Welch; treasurer, Priscilla Murray; pianist, Faye Goehring and reporter, Hazeldell Lambert. At the close of the meeting a delicious luncheon was served by the hostesses, Priscilla Murray, Hazeldell Lambert and Annette Lowstuter.

At high noon yesterday a pretty home wedding was performed by Rev. R. P. Graham, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Bentleyville, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scott, near Clover Hill, when their daughter, Miss M. Etta Scott was united in marriage with Frank H. Mitchell, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mitchell of Washington. The ceremony, which was witnessed by a large number of relatives and friends, took place on the large porch of the Scott home, which was beautifully decorated throughout with colors of pink and white and flowers that held a prominent place in the coloring scheme. The bride appeared very beautiful in a gown of white chiffon and satin and carrying white roses. Her maid-of honor, Miss E. Mildred Sauters of Meadow avenue, Charleroi, a cousin of the bride was prettily attired in a gown of powder-blue georgette, lace-trimmed and she carried a bouquet of pink tea roses. Harold Collins of Charleroi served as best man. The pretty ring ceremony was used and the wedding march was played by Miss Madeline Sprouls of Clover Hill. Following the impressive ceremony an elaborate wedding dinner was served to 72 guests, the tables being prettily adorned with pink roses. A reception followed in the evening. The bride and groom left this morning for a week's wedding trip to Ohio, and probably the Great Lakes, and upon their return to go to housekeeping in their newly furnished home on a farm near Washington. The bride and groom are both very wellknown throughout the vicinity, the bride having taken a prominent place in social affairs of Clover Hill and has been teaching in the West Pike Run township schools. She is a graduate of Bentleyville High school and also attended California Normal. The groom is a graduate of Washington High school and is a prominent man of that city.

Why the True Blue Oakland Endures

The reasons for the splendid performance and endurance of the True Blue Oakland Six are not hard to find.

When a car is built by a permanent organization such as Oakland; when it is backed by unlimited engineering and financial resources such as General Motors possesses; and when all concerned set out deliberately to build the finest light-six in its field—you would just naturally expect that car to be a success.

The soundness of Oakland's design and construction is admirably reflected in the way this True Blue car performs. See it. Ride in it. Drive it. Make it your basis for comparison in choosing your new car.
